

UPDATE: March 19, 2020

Good Morning,

We hope you are all safe and well. As our top priority has always been the welfare of our staff, students, and families, we have decided to close the building of Family Music Center until it is deemed safe to re-open. We have worked diligently all week to set up remote lessons and have been doing some test runs for the past few days.

Please send your email address to fmcwaterbury@gmail.com if you have not done so already. This will allow us to set up your lessons and allow you to continue to interact with your teacher. Our intent is to use Google hangouts to teach digitally, so a gmail address or google account would work best. It is also our intent to keep your lessons as scheduled (same day and time).

We will send further instructions via email soon, so please keep checking for updates. Hopefully your next lesson will happen as scheduled. If we all work together we can keep busy, keep our spirits up, and keep the music playing!
